

Speakers For Your Life™

PhaseTech speakers are designed for your needs and lifestyle.

- Stellar Definition.

From the luster of a singer's voice to the resonance of a Steinway Concert Grand piano, definition means you experience the natural character, size and ambiance of the live performance, not merely hear a reproduction of the musical notes.

- Quality Control.

We are very serious about quality control. During the production process, each speaker component faces many quality control checks before final assembly and each completed speaker system must meet precise calibration standards for frequency response, sound quality and appearance.

Phase Technology is firmly committed to providing unparalleled support and service to our dealers and their customers.

- History and Heritage.

Building on over 6 decades of design and engineering innovation, Phase Technology Corporation today occupies a special niche in the intensely competitive home-audio industry. It is one of the few fully vertically-integrated speaker manufacturers in America; producing drivers, crossovers, cabinets and systems. All PhaseTech speakers are designed and engineered here in the USA.

Each Phase Technology speaker is based on almost 6 decades of design and engineering experience, and every component of nearly every speaker is built, meticulously designed and integrated into the final product.

From the world-class performance and flexibility of our new dARTS systems, to the outstanding style of our Phase Velocity Series, to the virtually invisible Custom Installation Series, we build "Speakers For Your Life".
